HEBER THIRD WARD

With the formation of the Heber Third Ward on February 8, 1903, Frederick Crook was called to be the first bishop. Permanent counselors were not chosen at the time, but Joseph Moulton, a stake high councilman, was asked to act temporarily as first counselor and Joseph E. D. Tomlinson as second counselor.

A permanent bishopric was sustained at a meeting held November 8, 1903, when Frederick W. Giles who had been serving as ward clerk was sustained as first counselor and Joseph E. D. Tomlinson second counselor. Charles H. Ohlwiler was selected as ward clerk. In 1908 F. W. Giles was called as a missionary to Great Britain and during his absence Joseph Tomlinson became first counselor and Adolphia Y. Duke, also a stake high councilman, served as second counselor when Elder Giles returned home he was sustained as second counselor in the bishopric.

Bishop Crook served the ward for more than 28 years. Others who served as counselors were Edward Parley Cliff, John A. Anderson and Joseph Claudius Hicken. The clerk, Brother Ohlwiler, moved away in 1909 and Charles De Graff was sustained to the position. He served until 1912 when William H. Bond became clerk and served until Bishop Crook's release in 1931.

When the ward was organized the meetings were held in the Heber Central School building. Members began a drive to collect funds for a new building, and by December 26, 1915 they were ready to dedicate a $13,000 chapel at Fourth South and Main Street. President Joseph F. Smith dedicated the building, which is still in use today by the ward.

The Heber Third Ward Chapel built in 1912.
